Publisher's Note

April 2009

When our editor-in-chief, Korey Karnes, let me in on this year's list of Chicago's most stylish men, I thought, "Wow!" What an amazing group of smart, well-dressed gents. Our editors always have a knack for finding the hippest trendsetters and tastemakers in the city—from the Peninsula's Greg Hyder to NoMI's Fernando Beteta. And with Chi-town native Billy Dec on the cover of this year's Men's Issue? Even more perfect! Well... I should say almost perfect, because then I started thinking about all of the dapper men out there I know and I felt it was necessary that I honor their chic side, too. So I've compiled my own list below of the most fashionable men in Chicago. These guys truly embody the meaning of style, grace and sophistication. You know, in many cities, people become fashion victims. But in Chicago we find men of great sartorial splendor. Maybe it's the Midwestern balance of the coastal extremes—but whatever the reasoning, here in Chicago, style is truly about quality and attitude. Congratulations to all of our Men of Style for getting it done and looking good while doing it. jcarroll@modernluxury.com
